

This is a simplified shingle scheme from those shared previously. Here, the precast panels only rotate around a vertical axis, increasing in rotation from east to west and down to up.

The figures are very bad here. To be revisited directly.

Interesting/undesirable faces are exposed by the rotation of the panels. These are represented in red, alla Louboutin.